Climate change and voluntary climate protection

More than 2° global warming are too much - all scientists are as one on this. By today's standards economical activities are always related to CO₂ emissions. Besides national aims to reduce greenhouse gases the voluntary climate protection plays a significant role.

No matter how economical or efficient a company or our actions are, some emissions remain unavoidable. Without a massive expansion of the climate protection mankind will not be able to solve the problem of the global warming.

Climate protection projects save CO₂ emissions - no matter where in the world.

Greenhouse gases like CO₂ spread evenly in the atmosphere - hence, we have the same concentration all over the world. With regard to the greenhouse effect it is absolutely irrelevant where on earth the emissions are caused and where they are balanced.

Certified climate protection projects make a proven and important contribution to fight against the global warming.

Climate neutral company

Coal-based thermal power plants are one of the energy sources in India and they are one of the biggest CO₂ emitters at the same time. The climate protection project we support in the Indian region of Nashik in Maharashtra replaces part of the fossil energy by feeding renewable wind energy into the regional NEWNE power grid. Four wind turbines with a total capacity of six megawatts were installed for this purpose.

The wind project will generate approximately 12,530 megawatt hours of electricity per year and save about 11,560 tons of CO₂ will be saved. With these savings and the creation of jobs, the project contributes to sustainable development in India.

Our climate neutrality as a company includes directly caused emissions (electricity and heat generation, vehicle fleet, fugitive gases) and indirect emissions from purchased energy, business travel and employee commuting. Other indirect emissions that occur outside our company in the production of raw materials and intermediate products, external logistics and the use and disposal of products or other processes are not subject to our climate neutrality.

We take responsibility:

- ✓ for our products
- ✓ for our consumers
- ✓ for our behavior
- ✓ for nature and environment

We constantly work on the reduction of our CO₂ emissions. We offset unavoidable ones.

We use compostable materials made from renewable resources.

We use paper from sustainable and controlled forest cultivation.

We purchase green power from 100% renewable sources.

We are certified organic producers according to EG Bio Regulation.

We work on getting better every day.

Family Roastery Minges

Minges was awarded the Superior Taste Award for outstanding taste quality in 2022.

For 90 years and now in its third generation, the family business has been committed to the traditional craft of coffee roasting. In the process, Minges refines the coffee using the traditional and particularly gentle method - the original Minges long-time roasting.

The Minges family roasting company takes responsibility, both in the countries of origin and regionally. In Tanzania, for example, children often do not have the opportunity to attend school in a country dominated by agriculture. Together with Brot und Bücher e.V., the family roaster finances the expansion of existing schools and the construction of new ones.

Traditional Roasting Company J.J. Darboven

J.J. Darboven is the market leader in Fairtrade coffees.

J.J. Darboven is undisputedly one of the TOP 4 largest German roasting companies - and one of the oldest: founded in 1866 in a small office in Hamburg's old town, the family business is now one of the best-known coffee brands in Germany.

In the long term, J.J. Darboven wants to enable its coffee farmers to manage their own business proudly and confidently, to commit themselves to social and ecological concerns and to experience a gain in their quality of life.

Small Roastery Dresdner Kaffee

Dresdner Kaffee was named one of the best roasting companies in Germany by Feinschmecker magazine in 2022.

The roasting masters of the small but fine Dresdner Kaffee roastery are among the best in their guild. They are specialised in coaxing countless aromatic and flavourful secrets out of raw coffee by having great expertise in artisan roasting.

The Dresdner Kaffeerösterei purchases the coffee beans from small, family-run plantations. The roasting masters are often on the plantations themselves and set great value on a trusting cooperation with the coffee farmers, who are fairly remunerated and are thus enabled to operate sustainably.
